

Fresh Alert
June 11, 2008 - Tomatoes

Hi, this is Jim Naylor with another produce FreshAlert...from FreshPoint. The U.S. FDA has added Florida grown tomatoes from specific counties to their list of approved sourcing areas for roma, red plum and round red tomatoes. Most approved growing regions are just starting their season, which means supplies have been very tight. The FDA says that Cherry Tomatoes, Grape Tomatoes and On-the-Vine Tomatoes are NOT likely to be the source of this outbreak. For more detailed information, you can visit www.fda.gov.
