Sacramento, CA - Vierra Farms | Corn is one of the most important crops in the world today. A traditional autumn decorative favorite, Indian corn, with dried kernels of deep blue, dried-pepper-red and brilliant yellow, is associated with Thanksgiving and an abundant harvest because of the sustenance it provided to the pilgrims and the early settlers. It was an important dietary staple to the Native Americans, and varieties descended from this crop continue to provide sustenance to the world. Today Indian corn remains a symbol of prosperity. Alongside pumpkins, gourds, squashes and other gifts of nature, it will grace your autumn or holiday tabletop
