the Fresh Press ALERT

Produce that's Fresh. Information that's to the Point.

SEPTEMBER 20TH, 2019

BROCCOLI ALERT
Quality is fair to poor with brown bead, hollow core, and mildew present in product to varying degrees. Markets are very active and supplies short due to low field yield. Look for these conditions to remain for the next 4-6 weeks. Broccolini is a great sub as product quality is great and readily available.

CITRUS—LIMES ALERT
Mexican supplies continue to be heavier to 230 and 250cts. In the short-term that should continue, and the rain will help. Plenty of inbounds from Colombia and Guatemala are helping to keep markets from going higher for now.

PEPPERS—RED & YELLOW ALERT
We see the western colored bell market easing off a little with green bells shortening up next week. Green pepper supply and quality are good. Red and yellow pepper supplies are very short in the East.
